

BIRKDALE INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

Providing a quality education in a caring environment

From the Principal

The vision for our school is to provide a quality education in a caring environment. We offer a wide range of academic, cultural and sporting opportunities, while fostering the development of personal interests.

Teachers at Birkdale Intermediate are very dedicated and work hard to provide a challenging, balanced programme that encourages academic excellence. Staff are expected to participate in ongoing programmes of professional development to enhance their teaching abilities and skills.

All academic programmes are well planned and the school is continuing to develop ways to ensure that accelerate students and the special needs of children are catered for in order that each child's potential is realised. An emphasis is placed on the development of our students' thinking skills through literacy, numeracy, science, social sciences and technology. The school aims to prepare each student for success at secondary school and for their life long learning.

We focus on the key competencies from the New Zealand Curriculum. These include thinking, communication, numeracy, self-management, social and co-operative skills. Thinking skilfully is a feature of our programmes. Every class now has access to a high speed computer network through ipad pods that are booked when needed to support students' learning.

In addition to quality academic programmes, we foster good sportsmanship, and encourage an enjoyment of recreational and sporting activities. These include cricket, swimming, waterpolo, softball, rugby union, rugby league, basketball, netball, soccer, athletics, hockey and volleyball. The school prides itself on being a "Fair Play School".

Arts and culture are catered for in a range of activities as diverse as choir, band, drama, music tuition, Kapa Haka and a range of performing arts which includes our highly acclaimed dance programme. The school is well known for its major productions of shows such as Joseph, Windust, and Bussy Malone. These involve large numbers of students each year. Our outdoor education programme includes a wide variety of activities such as rock climbing, abseiling, kayaking and archery.

The school has the interest of each child at heart. It is our objective to encourage each individual to make the most of the innovative programmes the school offers. We encourage parental involvement and support, and look forward to playing our part in assisting in the development of skilful, considerate and focused members of our society. We are a "Health Promoting School" and are keen to have support from the whole community in promoting our children's sense of well being.

The school will continue to provide a quality education for students, while introducing a number of new initiatives in the coming year, keeping the school at the forefront of curriculum developments.

The staff, parents and students are proud of the excellent reputation Birkdale Intermediate School has earned. Reports from the Education Review Office have been supportive of the quality and variety of the school's programmes. Birkdale Intermediate is held in high regard for the way in which it endeavours to provide each child with the opportunity to develop to his or her potential.

Homework

Homework is an important part of children's learning, and it is school policy to regularly set homework for students.

Studies have shown the value of homework for improving students' work habits, for consolidating learning, and for helping parents and caregivers keep in touch with their children's work and progress. Some homework consists of informal tasks which are undertaken voluntarily, but most homework will be set by the teacher and will relate to class programmes. A homework diary is used for this purpose.

Times:

Students are expected to spend between 30 minutes and an hour doing homework, approximately 4 hours per week. The difficulties of fixing an exact time for homework must be appreciated since children work at different rates, organise themselves differently and in some cases are keen to spend more time on homework.

Problems:

After making a genuine effort, any student who has difficulty with a piece of homework should put it aside and tell the teacher of the problem first thing in the morning.

Parent help?

It is quite in order for parents to give their children guidance with homework tasks but please keep in mind the need to encourage independence, personal effort and self direction.

Reading at home:

Part of homework is to set aside a regular time each day for some leisure reading.
